In re application of

Docket No: Q76471

Toshiaki KURIYAMA, et al.

Appln. No.: 10/614,193

Group Art Unit: 1713

Confirmation No.: 6287

Examiner: LIPMAN, Bernard

Filed: July 07, 2003

For: PROCESS FOR PRODUCING N-VINYL COMPOUND POLYMER

RESPONSE TO RESTRICTION REQUIREMENT

Commissioner for Patents
P.O. Box 1450
Alexandria, VA 22313-1450

Sir:

In response to the Restriction Requirement, dated October 3, 2005, applicants elect Group I, claims 6-9, 11 and 12 for examination. This election is made with traverse.

Applicants first note that claim 9 is included by the Examiner in both Group I and II. Applicants believe the Examiner has included claim 9 in Group II by mistake, since claim 9 does not recite an acid and a base, which is the definition of Group II that has been provided by the Examiner. Applicants request that the Examiner clarify the record by indicating that claim 9 is not included in Group II.

Further, the embodiment of addition of an organic acid as claimed in dependent claim 10 (Group II invention) is a pre-treatment of a starting material used in the invention of Group I.

Specifically, an organic acid is added to the N-vinyl compound polymer used as a starting material in the Group I invention to diminish an amount of residual N-vinyl compounds in the polymer. Thus, the Group I invention is directed to the embodiment wherein an organic base is added to the N-vinyl compound polymer used as a starting material, and the Group II invention is directed to the embodiment wherein an organic acid is added to the N-vinyl compound polymer used as a starting material in the Group I invention prior to addition of the organic base.

U.S. Appln. No.: 10/614,193

In other words, the Group II invention is the embodiment that the starting material used in the Group I invention is subjected to a specific pre-treatment.

In view of the above, applicants believe that the Group I invention and Group II invention are not different and distinct inventions for purposes of restriction, especially since claim 10 is a dependent claim. Upon allowance of the claims of the invention of Group I, claim 10 would be allowable. See the MPEP at §806.05(c) II.
